ACCESS

The Austin Community Collaboration to Enhance Student Success (ACCESS) is an Austin Independent School District (AISD) led community collaboration of public and nonprofit agencies working together to address the emotional, behavioral, and social needs of students.

Traditionally, a large number of community organizations have supported student learning in AISD. With the receipt of four years of federal funding through the Safe Schools / Healthy Students' grant, ACCESS will enhance the way social services are delivered on campuses by creating a youth mapping program with geographic information to locate, target, and serve the students experiencing the greatest needs. ACCESS will also increase the level of resources available to students and their families by implementing a number of innovative prevention and treatment programs that will promote and encourage safe and positive learning environments.

These efforts will culminate in a national model of data and resource sharing that provides an unprecedented technological opportunity for practitioners to assess their individual student needs and to also have immediate access to information about appropriate community resources.

Evaluation

The SS/HS evaluation is being conducted by a diverse and experienced team of evaluators. First, the team focuses on examining process measures to determine the fidelity of implementation for each ACCESS program. Second, the team evaluates how each program influences a number of well-defined outcome measures. The focus on program fidelity allows ACCESS a greater ability to sustain processes once the grant is complete by understanding what specifically influences desired outcomes.

The team is comprised of both internal (to the district) and external evaluators. Responsibility for evaluation of all components of the ACCESS grant is assigned to one of the evaluation team members. Staff has been provided for an in-depth examination of Positive Behavior Supports and the ACCESS' technology initiative. Additionally, the team works with evaluators investigating the SS/HS grant program at the national level.

As they become available a variety of ACCESS evaluation resources will be posted on this webpage. Please contact us if you have further questions.
