

Truancy Prevention Efforts in School-Community Partnerships - Acknowledgments

This document was originally developed by staff at the National Center for Mental Health Promotion and Youth Violence Prevention and revised in 2012 by Dominique Lieu and Michael Scheffler, Research Assistants for EDC, and John Rosiak, Technical Assistance Specialist.

The National Center for Mental Health Promotion and Youth Violence Prevention gratefully acknowledges the following people for their help in reviewing and providing input to this project:

Marian Bernheimer, Project Director, Nevada County Superintendent of Schools

Hedy Chang, Independent Consultant, Annie E. Casey Foundation

Dr. Joseph Christy, Former Director, Washington County Juvenile Department

Phil Cook, Professor of Economics and Sociology and Faculty Affiliate, Center for Child and Family Policy, Duke University

Jeff Coomber, Project Director, Kern County Superintendent of Schools

Jennifer Donahue, Project Director, San Francisco Unified School District

Jane Goodwin, Project Director, Oneida-Herkimer-Madison Board of Cooperative Services (BOCES)

Teresa Greene, Project Director, Montgomery County Public School District

Susan Harris, Project Director, Bourbon County School District

John Rosiak, Technical Assistance Specialist, Education Development Center, Inc.

Dr. Ken Seeley, President, National Center for School Engagement, located at The Partnership for Families & Children

Dr. Ron Slaby, Senior Scientist and Technical Assistance Specialist, Education Development Center, Inc.

Dr. Jay Smink, Professor Emeritus/Former Director, National Dropout Prevention Center/Network

Susan Salkeild, Project Director, Tigard-Tualatin School District 23J

Trudy Townsend, Project Director, North Wasco County School District #21